INTRODUCTION

Today, being
ANONYMOUS
is almost IMPOSSIBLE

but, there are still things we would like to keep private...

RESEARCH

1/5

young people

suffer from mental illness

only about

4%

of the total

health care budget is spent on our mental health...

1/3

of South Africa's population
suffers from mental health.

75%

of them will not receive treatment.

PROBLEM STATEMENT

According to an article called,
“The Real state of Mental Health in South Africa”

“Only a quarter of the people with a diagnosable mental disorder are receiving treatment.”

In this atricle Freeman states that only 14% of our psychologists are available to treat nearly 85% of the population, which is unacceptable.

by THE SOUTH AFRICAN DEPRESSION AND ANXIETY GROUP

The problem identified is that 1/5 teens struggle with mental illness and the fear of “being judged” by their friends or family is a large barrier for them.

Mental health care is underfunded in South Africa and there is not enough resources to go around.

SOLUTION

According to “The Conversation” in an article,

“Why South Africa is failing mental health patients and what can be done about it”

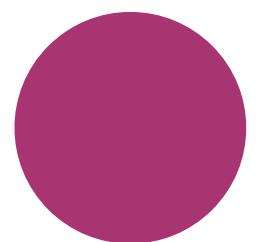

Janine Bezuidenhoudt writes,

“Mental health care management and services need to be made a priority.

And mental health care must be de-institutionalised so that community-based care can be set up in a systematic way.

This would entail first strengthening and then expanding community-based care.”

The solution is to create an app where you can anonymously join or create an intimate group where you can communicate with people who can relate to your issue on a personal level.

By creating this app it will create community-based care and take away the shame, guilt, or embarrassment teens feel when talking about their mental health.

Design

talk freely and let go.

I was struggling to decide how I want to approach the design of my app.

Medical or Informal

I decided to go more informal because there are so many health apps that take the more “medical” route and because of my target market.

I like how this person made use of keywords in their app to personalise the profile. I also want to use this method when searching for a group to join.
